Nora Ruzskai has over 20 years of experience in senior management, coaching and training. She has lived for several years in the United States and in China. In recent years she has managed her own media sales house company.

Nora spent 11 years at Sanoma Media as the company's COO. Before this she worked in various leadership positions at Unilever, Levi Strauss and MultiChoice.

"For a long time I have been interested in executive search", explained Nora. "At several points in my career I came close to entering the sector, but at the last minute something else came along. Now, after many years in senior management, I have decided to take the decision to take a step on this path. I think now is absolutely the best time for me to have met Amrop and its owners, since from every point of view I will be able to put my maximum into making Amrop Kohlmann & Young an even greater success".

"We are very happy that Nora has joined us! For many years we have been looking for a new partner with an extensive network and market orientation who could bring new momentum to our 25-year-old company", commented David Young, Managing Partner.

"Amrop Kohlmann & Young is one of the leading executive search firms in Hungary. Tradition is very important for us. But recently we've come to feel that it's time to take "a big step" and Nora's arrival has taken place at exactly the right time", said Richard Kohlmann, the company's other Managing Partner.

Amrop is one of the most dynamic executive search firms in the world. The consultants of Amrop believe strongly in "Leaders for What's Next": identifying and helping our clients to recruit the leaders of the future, bridging borders and markets. Amrop has 77 offices in 50 countries worldwide and over the past 40 years has become one of the largest global executive search firms.

Amrop has been part of Hungary's modernization process since 1992 and is now one of the leading executive search firms in the country. Amrop Kohlmann & Young is led by founding partners Richard Kohlmann and David Young, both experienced search consultants. They are supported by a talented team of multilingual professionals who have experience across a broad range of industries and sectors
